

Maintenance Tracker and Teacher

Authors: Matt Erni, Ezekiel (Emilia) Fatool, Andrew Garcia

Problem Statement:

People are often too busy to remember to routinely maintain their appliances or do not want to pay for it to be maintained. Our solution should provide our users with a reminder of when to do maintenance and should teach them how if they so desire.

Who is experiencing the problem?

Home owners, Landlords, or building owners in general.

What is the problem?

People neglect the necessary maintenance of some household appliances, then wonder why it stopped working.

Where does the problem present itself?

In the home, living space, or building in question.

Why does it matter?

Without routine maintenance of appliances they start to fail, and paying a professional is sometimes too expensive and also unnecessary when it can be done by the user.
